

Advanced Disaster Life Support (ADLS) Course

Important: The ADLS Course works best when using Firefox or Google Chrome Browsers. Do not use Safari.

1. The following link will take you directly to the registration page for June 10-11, 2026 ADLS Course on the NDLSF Learning Management System: <https://register3.ndlsf.org/course/view.php?id=3914>
2. If this is your first time taking a NDLS course, you will first need to create a “new account”.

3. After creating a user account, an email containing a link to confirm your user account will be sent to you. You will be logged in automatically when you follow the link. Upon subsequent visits to the site, you can follow the “Log in” in the top right corner of <https://register.ndlsf.org> . To return to your course, locate the course on the calendar, click the link to register again, which takes you to the course.

4. Enter enrollment key ADLS626SWVA and click “Enroll me”.

You are now enrolled and can follow the instructions for completion within the ADLS Course. You will complete an ADLS Pre-Test before the course date and an ADLS Post-Test following attendance of the course. Upon successful completion of the Post-Test you can then issue and print your ADLS certificate. Please save your certificate for your records. We also welcome your evaluation and comments on the course upon completion.

5. Please save your certificate for your records. We also welcome your evaluation and comments on the course upon completion.

If you have any technical difficulty whatsoever please click “support” at the top of the page to report it, and the NDLS Program Offices will work to answer your questions as soon as possible. Thank you!
